Choir at
All Saints Episcopal Church
Parma, Ohio

The All Saints Parish Choir is a group of devoted singers who lead the congregation in joyful singing at the 10:30 a.m. Eucharist on Sunday mornings. The Parish Choir sings on the first three Sundays of the month. Our Organist/Choirmaster is Kirk Rich, a talented student of organ at Oberlin Conservatory of Music. Under Kirk's direction the choir, though small, is able to contribute anthems in four parts, and to lead the congregation in plainsong settings of the Psalms as well as in a wide variety of hymns. The Parish Choir rehearses on Thursday evenings at 7:00 p.m. except the Thursday preceding the fourth and fifth Sundays of the month, and welcomes with a joyful shout anyone who wishes to join us. Please come.
